School merger on the cards despite doubts

All for Matt

A CAMPAIGN has been launched this week to find a bone marrow match for a Northampton teenager who needs a transplant to save his life.

PLANS to merge schools in Northampton took another step forward this week despite opposition.

County councillors met on Tuesday to discuss the future of Sunnyside Primary, Woodvale Primary, Bellinge Primary and Ecton Brook Primary schools.

In July, plans were revealed to merge failing Sunnyside with Woodvale, and Bellinge with Ecton Brook.

Sunnyside and Bellinge were both placed in 'special measures' by Ofsted after inspections revealed they needed to considerably improve for the sake of the children.

Parents vehemently protested against the decision at Sunnyside, resulting in the idea being scrapped.

However, members heard how the schools could now operate under a 'hard federation' working closely together with a shared headteacher.

Cllr Andrew Grant, cabinet member for schools said: "The schools are in special measures. We want our children to have the best possible education to get the best start in life.

"We have examined both sets of proposals and believe that two quite different solutions are needed to bring about tangible improvements in standards for Bellinge and Sunnyside schools.

"We believe that a federation represents the best way forward for Sunnyside and Woodvale schools while a merger is the most appropriate option for Bellinge and Ecton Brook schools.

"In both sets of circumstances, we have seen how outstanding leadership can make an enormous difference to the spirit, the atmosphere and the determination of a school and its staff. By putting the partnerships on a more formal footing, we are confident that the opportunities for further improvement will be enhanced."

The plans for Sunnyside and Woodvale will go to a further consultation period, while Bellinge is expected to be merged with Ecton Brook on January 1, 2010.

Cllr David Mackintosh said: "I'd like to commend the work of the executive head teacher of the schools and all the staff.

"There is a really strong sense of community at the schools now, but there is some concern in Bellinge that the name remains in some way.

"In terms of the benefits for children, it has been very positive."

Cllr Dennis Meredith said: "I have been a school governor for 35 years. Different areas have different views. The schools need different governing bodies, with roots in the communities that they know.

"There is a lot of confusion around this, and the proposal is flawed."

Cllr Jenny Conroy said: "If this merger does not work, what happens then? Do we close both schools?"

Northampton Borough Council member Cllr Andrew Simpson said: "I was delighted to hear the council had decided against the idea of a merger, but what is the difference between a merger and a hard federation?

"They seem the same just with a different name."

Council decision to see closure of care homes

FOUR care homes in Northamptonshire look set to close after plans were backed by councillors.

Earlier this month, the county council announced that Lakeview House and Cotswold House in Northampton, Evelyn Wright House in Daventry and Hemmingwell Lodge in Wellingborough were due to close for being outdated.

Members of the council passed the motion despite public opposition.

Sue Hess said: "My mother lives in the Grange. If the council close these homes, will they rehome the residents?"

Roger Rumsey, chairman of the Northants 50+ Network said: "We are the next generation to use these homes. These were temporary measures, but we are now in the middle of a recession.

"We do not want what we have got now, we want better. We need to work with the private and voluntary sectors, and help us help ourselves.

"We need to know help is there when we need it."

Labour leader Cllr John McGhee slated the council for only caring about saving money, rather than helping the elderly in the county.

He added: "We have seven excellent homes and two good homes. We cannot guarantee that the private sector can improve on the service we already provide."

The plan states that Lakeview House and Spinney Hill will stop taking admissions from April 2010, with closure marked for later that year.

Admissions to Cotswold House in Duston would cease in October 2010, and it would close by 2012.

Cllr Robin Brown, cabinet member for social services, said: "We have a strategy and this paper will ensure that it will happen.

"We will know longer place people in homes that are inappropriate or have sub-standard facilities.

"We want to ensure that the situation improves so that older people in the future are given better care."

Road closure for drinking hotspot

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

BRIDGE Street will be closed off to traffic to make the Christmas period safer for party-goers.

The popular nightspot will be closed on Friday, November 28 as a test, before any permanent decisions are made.

In September, the Safer Stronger Northamptonshire Partnership, made up of the borough and county councils and Northamptonshire Police, announced that they were planning to prevent traffic driving along the street, lined with bars, and it was dubbed 'an accident waiting to happen' by Cllr Paul Varnsverry.

A spokesman for the Safer Stronger Northampton Partnership said: "The first closure of Bridge Street is planned for Saturday evening, November 28.

"The road will be closed on Friday and Saturday between 8pm and 4am until January 2 and this will be constantly monitored to see how well it is working. The arrangements for the closure will be well-publicised in the next few weeks to ensure people are well aware of them.

CCTV images

"The Partnership's aim is to keep people safe and reduce crime and disorder in the town. This closure will allow pedestrians to move around freely and reduce congestion outside venues at what must be one of the busiest times of the year.

"We want to make sure people can enjoy a night out in Northampton safely and securely and this closure is part of that."

Taxis would be able to access the rank in Mercers Row along Gold Street and the proposal includes an amendment for The Drapery which would allow traffic to access and leave the town centre by that route.

Police on the lookout for known offenders

KNOWN shoplifters will be sent a different type of Christmas card this festive season.

The Northampton Retail Crime Initiative (NRCI) will be sending out cards to 30 identified excluded offenders, warning them that their picture has been circulated to shops in town and they will not be permitted to enter these stores.

The operation will see the police, in partnership with Northampton Borough Council CCTV, environmental wardens, security and shop staff and the NRCI, working together to prevent, disrupt and deter criminals in the town centre and make it a safer place for those living, working or visiting the area, especially during what can be a busy time of year.

The mobile police station will be located in the town centre every Saturday in Abington Street as well as a varying day during each week.

Officers will be on hand to provide help, crime prevention advice and assistance to people.

It will also be an opportunity to meet officers and highlight any community priorities.

Sergeant Matt Phillips from the town centre SCT, said: "By working together, we are best placed to ensure that Northampton town centre remains a safe palace for people to visit, even during the busy run up to Christmas.

"My team, supported by extra officers and partner agencies will be on hand to provide reassurance and help.

"My message to anyone considering coming to the town centre this Christmas, to commit crime or cause anti-social behaviour is not to bother, as the police as well as many other agencies will be watching and waiting for you."

Officer Nick Stephens, liaison officer at the NRCI, said: "We shall be encouraging the retail business community to keep a look out for any banned offenders trying to enter premises and to report any suspicious incidents via the Retail Radio Link.

"With the help of NRCI members and the CCTV system, suspects can be spotted quickly and deterred. We want the public and retail staff, to have an enjoyable shopping experience this Christmas."

Joe Joyce, coordinator at the NRCI, said: "Once again we are pleased to play our part in making Northampton a safer place for visitors and residents to come and shop at the busiest time of the year."

Town to feature in next Harry Potter?

BY JODIE PARSONS
jodie.parsons@hpnorthants.co.uk

INTRIGUED residents have been asked to leave their lights on and their curtains open tonight as Warner Brothers takes to the sky for aerial filming of an unknown film.

The company delivered mysterious letters making the request to homes in the Wootton and East Hunsbury areas at the end of last week.

It says that a Warner Brothers production company is currently making a feature film in the UK and they are planning to shoot aerial footage of the Wootton area tonight between 4.30pm and 6.30pm or Friday if the weather is bad.

The production company's location department could not provide any further information and the unusual request from a firm responsible for cinema hits including The Dark Knight and the Harry Potter series, has got residents guessing about what the film could be.

The letter says: 'The aerial shot aims to capture a well-lit residential area as of an evening.

'In order to achieve the desired effect we would like to ask you to leave your house lights on and also to keep your curtains open between 4.30pm and 6.30pm.

'In the event of bad weather during these times on Thursday 12 we will not film and will return on Friday 13 instead. We ask that you leave your lights on and curtains open accordingly.'

Due to the inconveniece the request may cause the production company wants to make a donation to a charity or residents' association.

Anyone who would like to nominate a group or charity should email petebardsley@gmail.com or call the location department office on 01923 685397.

The Civil Aviation Authority (CAA) and the police have been informed about the fimling and anyone with questions or concerns should get in touch on the same contact details listed above.

Tributes paid to 'a real character'

'AN IRREPLACABLE son, brother, boyfriend and friend' has been killed in Afghanistan.

Corporal Nicholas Webster-Smith, from Brackley, was killed in action when carrying out his duties in Helmand Province on Tuesday November 3.

The popular soldier, known as Nic or W-S, was the eldest son of parents Richard and Jacqueline and a loved brother of Christopher, Samuel and Hannah.

Cpl Webster-Smith's family said: "An irreplaceable son, brother, boyfriend and friend. One of the most loving, generous, kind-hearted men you could meet.

"He always put others first and will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Nic will forevermore always be in our hearts."

His Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Debbie Poneskis (Commanding Officer 4th Battalion Royal Military Police), said: "Corporal Webster-Smith was a real character among the Regiment and the Company. A professional and determined soldier, Corporal Webster-Smith was always the first to volunteer and the last to give up."

The Operations Officer for 160 Provost Company, Captain Karen Tait, said: "W-S was a true soldier and Military Policeman. His pride at wearing his beret and working alongside his colleagues was evident.

"He had a fantastic sense of humour that he brought out when we all needed it, always at the centre of activity. His professionalism and courage is what stood him out among his peers.

"A sociable character who always made time for his friends and loved ones. The loss of W-S has left a void in the Company."

Council agrees report to axe speed cameras

SPEED cameras could come down after councillors agreed to a new Road Safety Review.

The report, presented by Cllr Heather Smith, to discuss new infrastructure improvements, could spell the end of fixed speed cameras.

The report said: 'With regards to the use of safety cameras, the requirements regarding how and when cameras are used has altered since the last fixed site camera was installed in Northamptonshire in 2005, and therefore it is proposed that as part of the review clear guidance and direction will be provided on the use of any new fixed site cameras.'

Cllr Julie Brookfield said: "Fixed cameras and mobile cameras have a place, but as a resident, I would be very worried.

"I believe it is not just about reducing speed, but speed cameras have helped reduce casualties on the road.

"We have to change driver's behaviour."

Cllr Dennis Meredith said: "I am worried that removing cameras might bring in accident black spots.

"If the cameras are taken down, they should be replaced with speed warning signs.

"These signs do work and have been very effective, much more than speed cameras, because people know that the cameras are not always maintained."

Leader of the Liberal Democrats, Cllr Brendan Glynane said: "It is the driver's fault if they are speeding. If you speak to the families of those who have been killed by speeding motorists, you would get short shrift."

Cllr Smith said: "Cameras are not the most effective way of slowing cars down. We will not jeopardise road safety."

I'm proud to call myself British

ARE you running a campaign on behalf of the BNP, given that your correspondent writing about their 'Englishness' withheld their name and address, it would appear so.

I served my country for more than 11 years in the Royal Navy and although I was born in Scotland, I am still proud to call myself British.

I wonder for instance if such people writing those letters about their Englishness would be prepared to fight for that right.

Britain became great because of the diversity of the people who live in these islands and not because of any narrow minded bigoted view that both D Larkman and your address withholding correspondent has expressed.

Ken Shields

Can we have average speed cameras on our roads instead?

THE whole debate with regard to speed cameras has been brought about by the fact that funding for them has changed.

Originally the police and local councils kept some of the money raised by these machines.

This is no longer the case, now the Government gets it all.

In the past they were not only self-funding, but generated a little revenue.

Now if we want these cameras installed and maintained we as council tax payers must pay for the privilege; talk about adding insult to injury.

One could write reams on the efficacy of speed cameras; the pros and cons have lead to much debate in themselves.

On the whole they must be a good thing, anything that saves lives must.

However by them being automatic it does take our police force away from having to patrol our highways and byways.

This I feel has resulted in a marked deterioration of general driving standards and safety.

Should we not have average speed instead and keep all the money generated for our councils to keep and spend it on repairing our terrible roads.

Fred Squires

■ YOUR article on speed cameras just means another load of meaningless twaddle will be produced at rate payers expense.

The only thing wrong with speed cameras is that there are not enough of them.

If motorists were guaranteed to get caught they would stop speeding and accidents would reduce.

The idea that vehicle activated signs will work with no penalties is ridiculous.

Average speed cameras have been shown to work on dangerous stretches of road in other counties, we should be installing more of these.

Motorists seem to think they should be allowed to break the law.

Before you say I don't know what I'm talking about, I drive over 18,000 miles every year.

Country's independence will be lost

THE Lisbon Treaty will eventually lead to the formation of a European Federal State. This will mean the loss of our country's independence, and affect ourselves and our children for generations to come.

Now that David Cameron has reneged on his 'cast iron promise' to give us a Referendum on it, I guess we can file that with the similarly 'solemn manifesto pledges' made by the two other major parties before the last General Election.

Why should anyone now believe anything any of them say?

Their local candidates cannot hide behind a facade of patriotism when their party leadership is betraying our country.

I'm sure the voters of Northampton will think long and hard at the next General Election before voting for any of the candidates from the three major parties that have so disgracefully betrayed their country.

As well as the broken promises, they will remember the lies, and the excessive expense claims.

If voters want to demonstrate both their disgust at the major parties and their concern at the loss of their country's independence, they could do no better than vote for United Kingdom Independence Party, (UKIP).

A substantial vote for UKIP will demonstrate their concern and give added strength to all those who will be pressing the new government to act before it's too late.

There will be only one candidate on the ballot sheet worthy of their vote who can really be trusted to convey their protests and that will be the UKIP Candidate.

UKIP Prospective Parliamentary Candidate

We really need two to become one

COUNCILLOR Harker's comments against a unitary council (H&P page 3 November 5) illustrate exactly why a unitary council is the way forward.

This is the leader of the county council advocating that the two existing councils work together.

Or, to put it another way, admitting that they do not work together.

It is an admission that the present system does not work.

Far easier to solve the problem by making them into one organisation than by trying to change an established culture.

Is he perhaps worried that he might have to find another job?

Appealing for Matt

Friends unite to appeal for donor

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

A TEENAGE rugby star is making a plea to Northampton as he waits for a marrow transplant to save his life.

Matt Herbert was diagnosed with leukaemia for the second time in September, and told that he needed to find a donor.

The Matt's Match campaign launched on Monday and involves a series of donor sessions with The Anthony Nolan Trust across the town to potentially find a match which could help save his life.

Matt, 15, began an intensive bout of chemotherapy in Birmingham on Monday, while his friends at Northampton School for Boys helped launch the campaign.

Although there are more than 13 million people on the marrow donor list, nobody has been a match for Matt so far.

Matt said: "The doctors have said the chemo will be even harsher this time, there will be two rounds and I will need a bone marrow transplant.

"What's even worse is I have just had to celebrate my 15th birthday here and I have to carry on studying for my GCSEs."

The launch on Monday was attended by many of Matt's friends, dressed in yellow Matt's Match hats and sporting heroes Andy Holt from Northampton Town, Stephen Peters from Northamptonshire County Cricket Club and mascot Bernie from Northampton Saints. Celebrities like F1 World Champion Jenson Button and England stars Jonny Wilkinson and Steve Borthwick have given their support for the campaign, as well as neighbour Matt Smith, the new Dr Who.

Matt Herbert

He said: "Matthew and I grew up in the same street in Northampton just three houses apart.

"Matthew is such a kind, intelligent and fun loving young man and so it is extremely important to me, personally, that he has all the support and help he deserves with his current illness.

"He desperately needs a compatible bone marrow donor and I would ask you please to support him by taking a simple saliva test to see if you are the one who may be able to help him."

Matt's friends are urging people to come forward to help, and wishing him well.

Joe, Matt, Howard and Tom said: "We wish him good luck and to get well soon. He is extremely brave and we need him back."

The first donor session will be held on Saturday, November 21 at Sixfields between 12.30pm and 6.30pm.

Bin man's good deed

A WOMAN has been reunited with her purse and more than £500 that she thought had been lost.

Northampton Borough Council refuse collector James Smith found a purse in the street while on his rounds in Abington. After checking the address James discovered that the purse belonged to someone who lived in one of the nearby streets.

James walked to the address and posted the purse through the letterbox before rejoining his crew to complete his collections.

By the time he returned to Westbridge Depot his manager had been contacted by Mr Lee who wanted to thank him for returning his wife's purse.

Cllr Trini Crake, Northampton Borough Council cabinet member for environment said: "Usually we take away the things people leave at the kerbside not return them. I am very proud of James.

"He has gone out of his way to return the purse to its owner and probably saved a lot of stress and worry when she noticed her purse was missing."

On top of the world after mighty game

HOUSE: Kerri McGarry

A BINGO fanatic has broken a record for the world's highest game.

Kerri McGarry, manager at Gala Casino Northampton, joined 24 dedicated bingo players to tackle Everest, dabber in hand, to set the record for the World's Highest Game of Bingo.

Despite the constant risk of dehydration, altitude sickness, deep vein thrombosis and frostbite, Kerri overcame all that nature could throw at her to land the biggest bingo jackpot of all time - calling 'BINGO' on top of the world.

Kerri and her teammates, all Gala Coral staff from around the UK, have been preparing for this record feat since 2008, during which they engaged in a gruelling training programme to ensure they were well prepared for the rigours of playing bingo at 17,500 ft.

The extraordinary challenge was part of a fundraising effort for Gala Coral's nominated charity, Sue Ryder Care.

Following the completion of the trek and the setting of a new world record, the team has successfully smashed their goal of raising £100,000 for the charity. Kerri said: "It's simply unbelievable to have been part of a world record setting team. Despite all the hardships we endured on the way to Everest base camp, the trek was a once in a lifetime challenge and it's great to finally be able to say that I've trekked to the top of the world, set a new record for Britain's favourite game and helped raise over £100,000 for Sue Ryder Care.

"The other trekkers at base camp simply couldn't believe it when we started pulling out the calling cards, dabbers and bingo balls at 17,500ft for the record attempt. I'm sure they thought we had altitude sickness.

"But the support, camaraderie and cheers that erupted across base camp when we broke the record is a moment that I will never forget. I hope we did the world of bingo proud."

Paul Woodward, chief executive of Sue Ryder Care, said: "On behalf of everyone at Sue Ryder Care I want to say a massive thank you and congratulations to the Gala Coral Everest Base Camp Trekkers. This is a truly fantastic endeavour."

Keep the door shut on surprise visitors

ELDERLY people are being warned by police not to open the door to unexpected callers.

The reminder comes after a series of distraction burglaries in the county in the last couple of days and is an important message for people to be aware of.

The latest incident happened on Tuesday, November 3 in Aston-Le-Walls near Daventry, and involved a man knocking at the door of an 83-year-old woman and claiming to be from the electricity board.

While the lady was distracted, someone else entered the property and stole a small amount of cash.

Before that four distraction burglaries took place across the county on Monday November 2.

A police spokesman said: "We would like to reassure people that we are doing all we can in our investigations of all of these incidents.

"We would also like to urge people to not open the door to unexpected callers and ask them to remind elderly neighbours and relatives to do the same. Only open the door if you are expecting someone by written appointment or if you know them. If the caller is genuine they won't mind.

"Always call us if you suspect someone, it could prevent your neighbour becoming a victim. The message is clear, if you are not sure, don't open the door."

In Northamptonshire police are working closely with other agencies to share information and respond to offences such as distraction burglaries.

Members of the Doorstep crime Action Network (DAN) use all of the powers available to them to close the net on criminals and make this county a difficult place for them to work.

For more information on DAN, visit www.northants.police.uk or call 0345 2307702

'Insider' jailed for fake robbery scam

BY COURT REPORTER
news@hpnorthants.co.uk

A DEPARTMENT manager at Matalan who faked a robbery at one of its store has been jailed for two years.

Sophia Garnett shared the dock at Luton Crown Court with a former lover who acted as the 'robber' in the scam.

Christopher McDonald hid inside the Luton store overnight and pretended to order her to open the safe, then he took the £15,000 takings and left her tied up.

The 24-year-old pleaded guilty to conspiracy to steal and was jailed for 12 months.

The prosecution alleged the couple wanted the money to set up home together in Birmingham, where he was living.

Garnett, 32, from Birchfield Road, Northampton pleaded not guilty at Luton Crown Court last month to conspiracy to steal, but was convicted by a jury.

Her barrister, Steven Donnelly, said she still maintained her innocence, claiming that McDonald had carried out the robbery without her help and she had not seen who had forced her to open the safe.

Judge John Farnworth told her: "You were in a position where you enjoyed a high degree of trust - you held keys to the safe, access codes and combinations and you knew when the safe was likely to have the most cash.

"You still maintain the story which the jury disbelieved and frankly I am not surprised they disbelieved it."

Mr Donnelly, defending, urged the court to suspend the sentence as a 'merciful consideration' for her family and because the case had taken two years to be concluded.

At the trial prosecutor, Will Noble said Garnett had been a departmental manager at the Luton branch for three and a half years and was trusted with store keys and safe combinations and also had knowledge of the CCTV and alarm systems.

McDonald came to Luton as a sales assistant for two or three months and they began an affair, despite having long term partners.

The prosecutor said the plot involved McDonald getting into the store before it closed on August 17, 2007 and hiding where CCTV would not pick him up and alarms would not be triggered.

Garnett then arranged to open up the following morning and arrived before other colleagues. She disabled the alarms and then claimed she had been confronted by a robber, who ordered her to open the safe containing several days takings.

He then tied her up and left.

When her colleague arrived she heard the muffled sound of someone trying to talk.

Mr Noble said Garnett told investigators she did not recognise the robber who had covered over the CCTV camera in the office.

But as inquiries continued a faint image of McDonald entering the store the night before was found and an examination of their mobile phones revealed their affair.

The prosecutor said: "They conspired to affect the robbery to line the nest for their future plans together in Birmingham. She was the insider - she had the means, the knowledge and the motive."

Based on the classic Hans Christian Andersen fairytale and from the successful writers of Mary Poppins, Honk features all of the fun elements that you expect from a Christmas show, including hilarious comedy, live music and colourful characters.

The story follows the adventures of Ugly, a duckling born different from the rest. Shunned and taunted by his siblings, Ugly, in the hope of finding friendship, is lured away from home by the ever-hungry Cat.

Awash with non-stop puns, an uplifting musical score and larger than life characters, Honk is a brilliant, fun-filled alternative to pantomime to be enjoyed by all ages from your youngest ducklings to your oldest swans. Change a child's life

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

AN APPEAL is being aimed at minority communities to encourage them to adopt.

Northamptonshire County Council held an event this week, which is also National Adoption Week, to raise awareness of fostering and adoption within black and minority ethnic communities.

In Northamptonshire, there are more than 200 looked after children and young people of various ethnicities who come from a variety of different backgrounds.

People will also be able to learn more about some of the children that are waiting for homes and why we need more people from all ethnicities to come forward.

Cabinet member for children and young people Cllr Andrew Grant said: "We urgently need more people from these communities who are willing to adopt and foster.

"Research shows that it is better for a child to be placed with a family or person who has the right cultural and ethnic background to enable them to settle, to feel a true sense of belonging and to be happy.

"There are many children of various ethnicities in Northamptonshire that need loving, caring homes that will explore, embrace, value and celebrate their culture and heritage."

The council is also looking for people to adopt the children who wait the longest, older children, children with disabilities and brothers and sisters.

This year's theme of National Adoption Week - the adoption gap - aims to highlight the gap between the types of children people want to adopt and the types of children waiting.

Often people want to adopt babies and toddlers but the county council needs people who are willing to consider adopting older children, sibling groups, disabled children, and children with developmental uncertainty.

There are currently 29 children like this waiting to be adopted in the county. Seven are in sibling groups, four children with disabilities, predominantly learning difficulties, and 18 older (five plus) children - seven girls and 11 boys.

Cllr Grant added: "We are asking the public to keep an open mind, and see the individual child. National Adoption Week is so important in reminding people about the backgrounds of the children waiting for adoption and the difference adoption can make to a child's life.

"We know from existing adoptive families that it can be hard work, but the rewards are huge. This is a chance to transform a child's life forever."

If you are interested in fostering or adoption, call 01604 236623 for fostering or 01604 704704 for adoption.

No butts about it - smoker must pay

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

A LITTER bug who claimed his tooth had broken and fallen out has been ordered to pay £500 after throwing a cigarette butt from his car.

Maxwell Holtz of Quartercroft, Pyramid Close, Northampton was spotted by one of the borough council's environmental wardens dropping the cigarette end from the driver side window of his vehicle while driving on Cliftonville Road in February this year.

After establishing that the owner of the vehicle was Mr Holtz, a Fixed Penalty Notice (FPN) was delivered to his home address along with a letter explaining that he had 14 days to pay £75 or face prosecution. The letter also gave details of how he could appeal the FPN.

An appeal was lodged but was unsuccessful and, despite further reminders from the council, the fine remained unpaid and was referred to court.

The case was heard on Thursday, November 5 at Northampton Magistrates Court. Although admitting to being a smoker at the hearing, Mr Holtz maintained he was not smoking at the time and that his tooth had broken and fallen out of the vehicle.

After taking account of Mr Holtz's evidence and hearing the evidence from the environmental warden, magistrates took just 45 minutes to deliberate the case before finding Mr Holtz guilty.

The court ordered him to pay a £100 fine, £400 in costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Cllr Trini Crake, Northampton Borough Council cabinet member for the environment, said: "If Mr Holtz had simply accepted that he had been spotted littering and paid the fine, we would not have had to bring this case to court, and he would have saved himself a considerable amount of money.

"We want our town to be clean and tidy and we will continue to take action against those people who have so little regard for their community."

MP calls for action to tackle society's poorest children

SALLY Keeble MP has called on the Government to make sure that every family has a living room as part of the measures to combat child poverty.

The move comes after Mrs Keeble, MP for Northampton North, met Government ministers to discuss the Child Poverty Bill which is going through Parliament.

The bill includes measures for assessing material deprivation, in which children are judged to be poor if they are deprived of some things that other children take for granted - like being able to go on school trips or having enough clothes.

There's no need for alarm - this is just a test

SHOPPERS at the Grosvenor Centre were evacuated on Tuesday morning.

But there was no need for more alarm than the ones ringing, it was a fire drill test.

Centre manager Sheridan New said "The safety of our customers is paramount to us and regular fire drills that are as close to real time situations as possible are essential to ensure the complete safety of the public if an emergency were to occur.

"I am sorry for any inconvenience this may have caused but I hope that people will understand why we carry out these drills and I would like to thank all those members of the public who were involved."

Runners' grand efforts raise cash to support soldiers

GENEROUS athletes have helped raise more than £6,500 for Help For Heroes.

Collections have now been completed for the sponsored family fun-run held in August, with a grand total of £6,794 raised by the 300 runners.

Cllr Paul Varnsverry presented the money on Remembrance Day to former solder Adam Williams on behalf of the charity.

"I joined Gymophobics Northampton when they opened in April 2003.
In the first 3 weeks I lost 11½ inches and 1 stone; in 20 weeks I lost 25 inches and 3 stone... and kept it off.*
Treadmills, rowers and cross trainers are certainly not my thing! The air pressure driven machines are so easy to use and the 30 minute workouts fit around my busy life as a working mum. The staff are consistently supportive and always friendly. The environment is beautiful and nobody feels intimidated. I have introduced 5 friends and they love it here!"

Park for free and shop till you drop

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

SHOPPERS are in for a treat this festive period after council bosses announced five weeks of free parking.

Visitors to the town centre will be able to enjoy free Sunday parking in Northampton as the town gears up for Christmas.

The free parking will begin on Saturday, November 28 when Christmas officially begins in the town.

There will be no excuse not to go into the centre and see what Christmas has to offer as there will be free parking in the Mayorhold, St John's and St Michael's multi-storey car parks all day.

In the build-up to Christmas Northampton Borough Council will make it free to park at all of the Council's car parks every Sunday in the festive season.

There will be more than 5,000 free parking spaces in Northampton every Sunday from November 29 up to and including Sunday, December 27.

Cllr Trini Crake

There will also be free parking at the multi-storey car parks every Thursday for anyone looking to take advantage of the late-night shopping.

The Mayorhold, St John's and St Michael's multi-storey car parks will offer free parking from 5pm every Thursday night from December 3 to Christmas Eve.

Cllr Trini Crake, Northampton Borough Council cabinet member for environment said: "Northampton has it all with a fantastic range of shops, a pantomime, a German market, entertainment for all the family, some great places to eat and free parking.

"We know the current economic climate means it has been a difficult year for traders.

"I want people to come into town and enjoy everything Northampton has to offer this Christmas without worrying about when they need to return to their car."

The Christmas countdown is now on

THERE will be a weekend of festivity in West Haddon this month as the village aims to get people into the Christmas spirit.

All Saints Church and West Haddon Primary School PTA is hosting events on Saturday, November 21 and Sunday, November 22.

As well as being able to enjoy the shopping, fun and festivities of West Haddon's popular annual Christmas Fayre, this year visitors will also be dazzled by up to 40 Christmas trees in All Saints Church.

Cakes, hot drinks and face painting will also be on offer in the church while at the fayre there will be stalls, competitions, refreshments and even a rumoured visit from Father Christmas.

The Christmas Tree festival will take place on November 21 from noon to 5pm and November 22 from 2pm to 5pm, with a celebration service at 4.30pm. Entry is £1 for adults.

The fayre will be open on the Sunday from 2pm to 5pm in the village hall and school. All proceeds will be shared between the church and the PTA.

String of accolades for department

CUSTOMER satisfaction and ease of use has helped police pick up an Excellence Award.

Northamptonshire Police's Force Communications Centre (FCC) has been recognised nationally in the CCA Excellence Award 2009 for the improvements made by the centre in customer services.

The FCC was awarded 'Best Customer Experience in Sector: Emergency Services' category.

The prestigious awards celebrates organisations and individuals demonstrating excellence through innovations and driving improvements in their service. The award comes on the back of recent successes for the FCC, having received the judge's commendation status for entry in the National Services Awards 2009 in the Customer Service Team of the Year category. This award recognises the commitment to high standards of customer care.

And Lynn Coppin, customer relations officer in the FCC, recently won the Pride of Northamptonshire Excellence in Public Service Award 2009 for her implementation of the force's disability line.

Lynn Coppin

Angie Price, customer relations manager in the FCC, said: "To achieve this award is a testament to the professionalism within the FCC and an acknowledgement of the commitment of all our staff to serving the public.

"Such awards are particularly outstanding when you consider the number of calls our staff deal with on a daily basis and indeed the diversity of issues we deal with."

Comedian Stephen K Amos is heading to the county for a show at Royal & Derngate.
LAWRENCE JOHN spoke to him about the comedy factor and how he works on making people laugh.

It's a funny world for comic looking to find his voice

WHEN any of us answer the phone we don't know what to expect.

We might know who is calling if we have caller display otherwise we have no clue.

Comedian Stephen K Amos was expecting my call, he knew he was scheduled to do an interview but he had no idea of what questions were coming.

It was my questions such as what did comedy mean to him, which, according to Stephen, enthused him as they were completely different to what he was used to being asked.

It is this telling it from the heart and saying it how it is which has helped launch Stephen into the world of comedy.

He is one of the few black comics to appear on the Royal Variety Performance and it is something he holds high on his list of achievements.

One of his main successes is making people laugh.

He connects with them, entertains them, makes them laugh and informs them of issues which they might not otherwise think about.

Explaining what comedy meant to him, he said: "It means a release of life and energy.

"It is an art form which unites people of different ages and cultures.

"This is the one area of work where you can say and do what you like to a captive audience.

"I think you will know in the first five minutes and then you can dictate the rhythm and be like a conductor setting the pace and taking the audience where you want to go.

"It is then my duty not only to entertain but to inform.

"You are more receptive if you like the person on stage.

"What do people expect when they see me?

"They expect to laugh and be entertained.

"I touch on issues like race, judgments and sexuality.

"I think people are quite intrigued as I say it how I see it.

"I am truthful and honest."

Many new comics these days latch onto and talk about their ethnic backgrounds and what it was and is like for them growing up in Britain.

It offers the audience a different perspective of what life can be like for other people and touch on an area those listening might know nothing about.

Stephen said he talks about his experience of growing up and he feels this mirrors the American comic Chris Rock but he believes their points of view and styles are very different.

Speaking about his own style, Stephen said: "My show talks about things which are happening in this day and age.

"That is the difference between the comedy I did five or ten years ago.

"It was then showing people how funny I was.

"Every comic develops from telling traditional jokes.

"Then you move to more general stuff and not about showing off.

"It meant I was telling people here I am and I have a unique perception."

Every comic tries to find his or her voice. It is their way of speaking to people about the things they want to talk about and get it across in their own style. This is something which Stephen discovered in a moment of inspiration.

He said: "It happened when eight years in to doing comedy when I did a show and I started to rift.

"I went off the script and the audience went with me.

"They were hanging on my every word.

"Afterwards I realised I had come through something, I had crossed a boundary.

"I remember feeling elated and joyous."

■ Stephen K Amos takes to the Derngate stage with The Feelgood Factor on Monday, November 16, at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £16.50 and can be booked by calling the Box Office on 01604 624811 or online at www.royalandderngate.co.uk

Georgianna's off to Chelsea show

A FLORISTRY lecturer at Moulton College has been named Young British Florist of the Year in her regional heat.

Georgianna Dunn, the college's floristry student of the year for 2007 and 2008, took the title at the event held in Covent Garden last week.

She had to design and construct a funeral design for a keen gardener and now goes on to the final which will be staged at the Chelsea Flower Show in May.

Georgianna said: "The designs produced in the competition were really good and I was delighted to win and am really looking forward to Chelsea next year."

Last chance to get your gala tickets

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

THERE are just three weeks left for people to buy tickets for the Mayor of Northampton's Charity Gala Dinner.

The Mayor, Cllr Michael Hill and Margaret Hill, the Mayoress, will be welcoming people to the Park Inn Hotel, Northampton on Friday, November 27 at 7.30pm for the annual event.

For £32 per person you will receive a drink upon arrival and a three-course meal.

There will be a tombola and band, Middle 8, will be playing a range of popular cover songs throughout the evening and encouraging people to get on the dance floor after dinner.

The evening is a perfect night out for Christmas before the hustle and bustle of the season really starts and proceeds from the evening will go to the Mayor's charities.

The first of the two charities that the Mayor is supporting this year is Dogs For The Disabled. Based in Northamptonshire near Middleton Cheney, they provide and train support dogs for people with disabilities including autism.

The charity has guaranteed that the money raised through the Mayor's charity will be spent providing a dog to improve one or more people's life in Northampton.

The second good cause is the children's ward at Northampton General Hospital which will use any money raised to buy manual handling and sensory equipment.

Cllr Hill said: "The Charity Gala Dinner is always a wonderful night out but more importantly it's about raising money for my two chosen charities.

"I look forward to seeing some familiar faces at the dinner but I hope to meet some people new to the annual event, it really will be an entertaining evening."

For tickets call 01604 838730.

Let's meet Big Brother as we go back to 1984

BY JODIE PARSONS

jodie.parsons@hpnorthants.co.uk

WE will be going back to the future as an adaptation of the dystopian novel that coined the phrase Big Brother, takes to the stage.

Sixty years after the publication of George Orwell's 1984, a brand new production of the novel will be premiered at Royal & Derngate from Tuesday, November 17 to Saturday, November 21 thanks to Blind Summit Theatre and BAC.

Physical theatre, puppetry and music will combine to create a cutting-edge and thought-provoking piece of theatre.

With its predictions of globalisation, surveillance paranoia and control through language Orwell's classic futuristic tale is still relevant for the present day.

The production returns to a simple form of theatre-making free from modern digital technology, using just cardboard props, live actors and puppetry. The ensemble manipulates objects, people, puppets and the set to tell the story of Winston and Julia's love affair in a futuristic totalitarian state.

Blind Summit Theatre is now established as a world leader in high quality puppetry for adult audiences and over recent years has gained major international profile through their revolutionary work on Anthony Minghella's Olivier Award-winning Madama Butterfly for English National Opera and their exquisite puppetry in His Dark Materials for Birmingham Rep.

This startling new physical production will bring to life the Orwellian masterpiece that created the all-seeing Big Brother, a concept now so familiar to us all.

Performances are at 7.45pm with matinees at 2.30pm on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Tickets are £9.50 to £25.50 from 01604 624811.

TREADING THE BOARDS: Marianna

Marianna's panto dream

BY JODIE PARSONS
jodie.parsons@hpnorthants.co.uk

A BACKING dancer on X Factor has been chosen to play Wendy in Peter Pan at The Deco Theatre.

Marianna Neofitou, 20, fought off competition from more than 200 other hopefuls to land the role.

She said: "I really mean it when I say it's a dream come true. It's my first panto and it's amazing to land one of the leading characters and it is going to be such a fantastic experience working alongside the likes of Louisa Lytton, Danny McCall and Tony O'Callaghan.

"I feel really privileged - I heard about the auditions through a friend of mine and came to Northampton full of hope but knowing that there was strong competition, so when I was told I had been chosen I was - I am - absolutly delighted and can't wait to start work."

Jill Roach, for the show's producers Stage Right Productions, said: "The auditions proved that there is an enormous amount of talented young people in and around Northamptonshire, and while decisions like this are always extremely difficult to make, the simple fact is that Marianna stood head and shoulders above her rivals for the role. She is an extremely talented dancer, a very good singer and an all-round top class performer and we are very lucky to have her on board."

Peter Pan runs at The Deco from December 7 to 31. For tickets visit www.decotickets.co.uk or call 01604 622749.

Theatre scoops three awards at prize giving

ROYAL & Derngate picked up prizes in three categories at the Theatre Management Association Theatre Awards - the joint biggest winners on the night.

Anna Francolini won Best Performer in a Play, for her performance in the title role of The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie on the Royal stage in September 2008 - a role she reprised in the production's hugely successful revival in Edinburgh this summer.

Royal & Derngate's co-production of Brief Encounter with Kneehigh Theatre won in the Best Touring Production category while a third win came in the Best Director category, scooped by Scott Graham and Stephen Hoggett for Frantic Assembly's Othello, which was produced in collaboration with Royal & Derngate.

The awards took place at the Lyric Theatre in Hammersmith on November 1.

Period stone home

Hannington
£599,950
THIS delightful detached period stone house is believed to be of 17th century origin and was formerly the Coach House to Hannington House.

The property stands adjacent to the 12th century parish church and has been occupied by the present owners since the year 2000.

There have been many improvements including the construction of an attached two storey annexe, together with a detached stone outbuilding, currently used as a music room and store.

The accommodation comprises four bedrooms, four reception rooms, bathroom and shower room, together with an antique pine kitchen/breakfast room and conservatory.

The house stands in professionally landscaped gardens which offer a very high degree of privacy and which face in a southerly direction at the rear.

For more information or to arrange a viewing, contact Richard Greener Estate Agents on 01604 230222.

Listed Grade II cottage

Spratton
£410,000
A DETACHED stone cottage to date from the late 17th Century and extensively restored between 2005 and 2006 is now available.

Since then the present owners have carried out further improvements to include the installation of granite work surfaces to the kitchen and the replacement of some of the floors and doors with natural oak.

The extended interior provides three reception rooms, a superb lantern roofed kitchen and breakfast room, cloakroom, three spacious double bedrooms and a spacious family bathroom including both shower and a Victorian style roll top bath.

The cottage is Listed Grade II as a building of architectural or historic interest and retains many original features including two inglenook fireplaces, exposed beams, deep silled windows and window seats.

Externally there is gated off-road parking for two vehicles and a private lawned rear garden which faces in a westerly direction.

The vendors have also had plans drawn for the construction of a single garage with loft room over.

For more information contact Richard Greener Estate Agents on 01604 230222.

Christmas facts

Charles Dickens published a little novella about a grumpy old curmudgeon who rediscovered the true meaning of Christmas after being visited by three ghosts on Christmas Eve.
It was a resounding success; so much so, that in the succeeding 166 years it has never been out of print.
"I have endeavoured in this Ghostly little book,' he wrote, 'to raise the Ghost of an Idea, which shall not put my readers out of humour with themselves, with each other, with the season, or with me. May it haunt their houses pleasantly, and no one wish to lay it. I am as light as a feather, I am as happy as an angel, I am as merry as a schoolboy. I am as giddy as a drunken man. A merry Christmas to every-body! A happy New Year to all the world!"
(Ebenezer Scrooge)
After the success of Christmas Carol, Charles Dickens wrote several other Christmas stories, but none was as successful as the original.

- On returning from hospital on December 24 with a new baby the mother said to her disgruntled looking five-year-old son, "The baby is a Christmas present from the angels" Well" he said, "maybe if we put him away and don't use him at all we can give him to somebody else next Christmas.
- According to a 1995 survey, 7 out of 10 British dogs get Christmas gifts from their doting owners. (Go on! Is that all?)
- Long before mistletoe became a saucy 'kiss encourager', it was considered to have magic powers. It was said to have the ability to heal wounds and increase fertility. Celts hung mistletoe in their homes in order to bring themselves good luck and ward off evil spirits.
- In Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea, your age is measured not in years but in how many Christmases you've lived through; you're not twenty, you're twenti krismas. Rather less charmingly, the Japanese expression to describe single women over 25 years old is kurisumasu keiki - left-over Christmas cake.
- Santa's Reindeers are Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner and Blitzen. Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer, was invented in 1939 solely as a marketing ploy to bring people into Montgomery Ward, a chain of US department stores.
- Silent Night was written in 1818, by an Austrian priest Joseph Mohr. He was told the day before Christmas that the church organ was broken and would not be repaired in time for Christmas Eve. Mohr couldn't possibly imagine Christmas without music, so he sat down and wrote three stanzas of a carol that could be sung by choir to guitar music. Later that night the people in the little Austrian Church sang 'Stille Nacht' for the first time. The rest, as they say, is history.
- You may hate it but the abbreviation of Xmas for Christmas is not irreligious. The first letter of the word Christ in Greek is chi which is identical to our X. Xmas was originally an ecclesiastical abbreviation that was used in tables and charts.
- Startled to see two young lads, who were making a lot of noise and getting in the way of other customers, dragging a bulky, awkward sack through the toy department of a large store, the manager stepped in. "Now, boys," he admonished, "if you keep on being troublesome, Father Christmas won't come to your house. That's what you say," retorted one youngster. "Who do you think we've got in the sack?"

ROYAL & DERNGATE NORTHAMPTON

he's behind you...

If Christmas is approaching all too quickly and you are struggling to get into the spirit - then a festive show is sure to put you in the right frame of mind. This year Northampton's Royal & Derngate is staging Honk - The Ugly Duckling Musical.
Set on the Royal stage it is the theatre's Christmas show while the Derngate hosts the traditional pantomime. And if the Royal's previous shows, including the delightful 101 Dalmatians and the wonderful Wizard of Oz, are anything to go by then audiences are in for another treat this year.
Based on the classic Hans Christian Andersen fairytale and from the writers of Mary Poppins, Honk is a brilliantly funny story awash with non-stop puns, an uplifting musical score and larger than life characters.
The professional cast will be joined by local children aged between eight and 12 who will be playing ducklings and froglets.
It takes to the stage from Tuesday, December 1 until Sunday, January 3.
For a spectacular Christmas treat for all the family book your tickets by calling 01604 624811 or visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk. Tickets cost from £9 to £21 with concessions and group discounts available.

If it's a traditional panto you are after, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs will be taking to the Derngate stage.
This sparkling production promises to dazzle all the family with story-telling, special effects, a great set, beautiful costumes and a whole dose of fun as this forever popular story is told.
It stars Linda Lusardi as the Wicked Queen, her real-life husband Sam Kane as The Prince and Pete Hillier, Boogie Pete from CBeebies, as Muddles.
Snow White can be seen from December 11 to January 10. Tickets are £15 to £23 with discounts available. Call 01604 624811 or visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk

After a three-year break from pantomimes The Deco Theatre in Abington Square, Northampton is getting back in on the fun with Peter Pan flying in to entertain audiences.
There is a great cast lined up including Louisa Lytton (EastEnders, Strictly Come Dancing) as Peter, Brookside's Danny McCall as Smee, Tony O' Callaghan (The Bill) as Hook, former Hollyoaks star Christina Baily as Tigerlily and Hazel Pude (Byker Grove) as Tinkerbelle.
It is on stage from December 7-31.
Tickets are from £8.50 with special packages available from 01604 622749 (open 9am to 5.30pm Monday to Friday) or from the box office in person (open 11.30am to 2.30pm Monday to Saturday).

If you are looking to escape this Christmas then why not head to The Castle Theatre in Wellingborough for a little jungle magic.
The stage will be transformed into a magical jungle as the theatre creates an exciting musical version of Rudyard Kipling's most famous story, The Jungle Book.
Audiences will be taken on an enchanting journey to meet all the well-known characters from December 7-31.
Baloo the Bear will keep audiences up to speed with every part of the story as Mowgli leaps from one adventure to the next in a show full of song and dance.
Tickets start from £10. To book, call 01933 270 007 or visit www.thecastle.org.uk.

winterwonderland

If you were seven years old what would be the best present this Christmas? Gadgets? Toys? Computer games? A chocolate fountain? All very nice yes, but ...

If you'd like to surprise the youngest members of the family with a gift they will never, ever forget then how about a visit to meet Father Christmas at home in Lapland.

We can all dream of a white Christmas but the likelihood of it snowing here in mid-December is slim. In the very north of Scandinavia, unless global warming is at a more critical stage than even the environmentalists predict, there will be heaps and heaps of the fluffy white stuff from mid-October right through until late spring.

Which means that from the moment you arrive it's like walking into a giant Christmas card and, with just over four hours of daylight from about 10.30am to 3pm, a lot of your holiday is spent in a sort of snowy twilight zone. Of course it can be cold but when you arrive at the airport, an elf in a big red hat will whisk you away to be kitted out in snow suits which include thermal socks, balaclavas, gloves, and great big boots. So bring on the snow! Day trips or short stay holiday packages include such magical activities as husky rides, a reindeer safari through silent forests and, included in some holiday packages, a trip to Santa's workshop where children get to make a Christmas tree decoration, ice some festive biscuits and enjoy some sledging.

Whether you're on a day trip or a longer visit all children get the chance to meet the great man himself before he says his goodbyes and disappears into the night - on a sleigh, pulled by a reindeer of course.

Flights from London Luton with Canterbury Travel depart on December 20 and 23 or visit: www.www.santalaplandholidays.com or www.laplandfrom- anywhere.co.uk

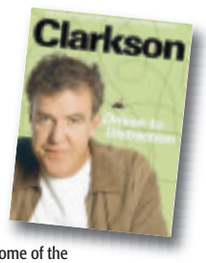
And for kids you'll find a selection of gift ideas including magical picture books, thrilling fiction and a fantastic range of annuals.

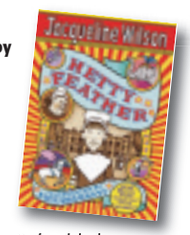
The Lost Symbol by Dan Brown Bantam £18.99
Follow-up to the international bestseller The Da Vinci Code, The Lost Symbol is a brilliantly composed tapestry of veiled histories, arcane icons and enigmatic codes, an intelligent, lightning-paced thriller that offers surprises at every turn. For, as symbologist Robert Langdon will discover, there is nothing more extraordinary or shocking than the secret which hides in plain sight...

Loose Women: Here Come The Girls Hodder & Stoughton £16.99
Winter can seem bleak, but the award-winning Loose Women girls are here to help get you through. This warm, honest and jaw-achingly funny book is a must-have for all Loose Women fans. Just like a night out with the girls, and brimming with all-new wit, wisdom and hilarious stories, this book is the perfect tonic for those cold winter nights

Ooh! What A Lovely Pair: Our Story by Anthony McPartlin & Declan Donnelly Michael Joseph £20
Britain's most successful television duo, Ant and Dec invite their millions of fans into their world. From youth clubs to blind school, pubs to jungles, there's a wealth of behind-the-scenes anecdotes that have never been told until now. An insight into the genuine intimacy and refreshing sense of humour that the two TV icons share.



Driven To Distraction by Jeremy Clarkson Michael Joseph £20
Brace yourself, Clarkson's back. And he'd like to tell you what he thinks about some of the most awe-inspiring, earth-shatteringly fast and jaw-droppingly gorgeous cars in the world (alongside a few irredeemable disasters ...). Or he would, if there weren't so many things competing for his attention first. More hilarious ranting from the popular Top Gear presenter.



Hetty Feather by Jacqueline Wilson Doubleday £12.99
Jacqueline Wilson will surprise and delight old fans and new with this utterly original take on a historical novel. Set in Victorian times and featuring a brand new feisty heroine, "Hetty Feather", this is a Tracy Beaker-esque tale that will thrill young readers. Warm, moving, funny and totally fascinating, it's the perfect gift for girls of eight and older.

Jamie's America by Jamie Oliver Michael Joseph £26
Jamie undertakes the ultimate food trip as he explores the ingredients, food culture and traditions of the USA. Smiths Farm Shop

There's a variety of seasonal food on offer this year.

Adrian Smith from Smiths Farm Shop in Chapel Brampton has given us the lowdown on what's hot for Christmas 2009. He said: "We have a fantastic trade at Christmas. "All the seasonal veg you normally find on your Christmas dinner plate we supply. "Brussel stalks go well for us because you can't beat the freshness of a brussel on the stalk. We have a wide range of ambient stock, like sauces that go on the Christmas table."

The store also has Spanish Oranges, hams - which people can cook themselves - and English Cox's apples among the popular products on offer. It also stocks handmade wreaths which many choose as decorations for their homes. Mr Smith added: "All the vegetables at this time of year are superb English quality products. "We have homemade cakes and pastries. We stock a massive range of products. Goose fat in the last two to three years has gone mad. The chefs talk about it and everybody wants it."

Smiths Farm Shop is located on Brampton Lane, Chapel Brampton. www.smithsfarmshop.co.uk

eatdrink&bemerry

Feasting on festive goodies and generally making merry are part and (Christmas) parcel of this time of celebration - but the season of goodwill to all men was decidedly gloomy in the years between 1647 and 1660.

The puritanical Lord Protector of England Oliver Cromwell banned Christmas Pudding, mince pies and anything that smacked remotely of gluttony - and the law has never been rescinded. But I won't tell if you won't...

The heaviest Christmas pudding on record was made on July 11, 1992 by the villagers of Aughton, Lancashire, weighing in at a whopping 3.28 tonnes (3286.818181kgs). If they'd doused that in brandy and set it alight there could have been trouble!

Mince pies, filled with a mixture of meat and fruit, originally represented the crib of the baby Jesus. They were oblong in shape and on top was baked a pastry child. The largest mince pie weighed 2,260 pounds and was baked in Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Leicestershire on October 15, 1932.

Christmas is celebrated all over the world but roast turkey with all the trimmings is a peculiarly British choice of festive meal. In this country 87% of homes will be tucking in to one on Christmas Day. If you can't face another year of the same old stuff on December 25 how do you fancy a slice of this? In Greenland, the Christmas feast may include Little Auks (seabirds that are like penguins), which are wrapped in sealskin and buried for months until decomposed. Mmmm... personally I think I'll stick with the turkey.

In Victorian times some of the birds destined for the Christmas table were raised in Norfolk and taken to market in London. To get them there, the turkeys were supplied with boots made of sacking or leather and then walked the 80 or so miles. The boots protected their feet from the frozen mud of the road. Geese meanwhile, had their feet protected with a covering of tar. We three geese of orient tar...

Before turkey was on the menu, a traditional Christmas dinner in early England was the head of a pig prepared with mustard. (With fondant aux marrons, walnut oil and a cranberry jus drizzled over the snout, I wonder?) One notable medieval English Christmas celebration featured a giant 165-pound pie. The giant pie was nine feet in diameter. Its ingredients included 2 bushels of flour, 20 pounds of butter, 4 geese, 2 rabbits, 4 wild ducks, 2 woodcocks, 6 snipes, 2 neats' tongues, 2 curlews, 6 pigeons, 7 blackbirds and 4 partridges - but no sign of a pear tree. It is a British Christmas tradition that a wish made while mixing the Christmas pudding will come true only if the ingredients are stirred in a clockwise direction - could this be why I still haven't won the lottery?.

Champagne is the traditional Christmas tipple. Millions of bottles of the stuff are enjoyed every year. Scientists calculate that there are 49 million bubbles in a bottle of champagne but who's counting, hic!

bingopartynights

If Christmas shopping is getting you down then maybe you'd like to play for a full house this Christmas.

Why not head down to Beacon Bingo on Weedon Road in Northampton where a new lounge has been introduced along with an events night.

The new concepts will help make a game of bingo a more sociable evening.

The B2 lounge is a new concept for bingo as it is a 'noisy' area.

Although bingo is normally a quiet game in this new room, with the help of technology, it is possible to play and chat at the same time.

The B2 lounge is also an entertainment venue with various events going on after bingo on selected evenings during the week, including comedy, quizzes and music.

It is also a drop in drop out bingo venue with the new Video Bingo Terminals available for those who can't commit to a whole session of bingo. Food is also served. Meltdown Bingo is the special event night that has been launched and is a mixture of bingo and clubbing aimed at the younger audience. It only takes place on the last Saturday of the month from 10pm to midnight.

It is usually themed and this month on November 28 it will be a pirate night.

OFT

It's About Property and People!

Since opening our doors in 1996 we have continually tried to be a different estate agent. We have always believed this business is about people and not property. Passionate people make things happen!

Last year we took the bold step of changing the way we worked and decided to adopt the business model that is used throughout most of Europe, the US, Canada, Australia and South Africa. We wanted to attract the best and most experienced property professionals to help steer us through this changing market. ALL our Property Consultants are 'self employed' and reap what they sow. They are driven individuals who don't 'clock on' in the morning and 'off' in the evening. We are the ONLY estate agents in Northampton and Rugby to operate in this way. You'll notice the difference from the moment you meet us to the moment we move you.

Director - Adam Wellesley

HORTS™ ESTATE AGENTS

Chris Stone

Sally Brazener

1-2-1 relationships

We believe that when selling a property a vendor should have one point of contact. They should be able to get hold of the person dealing with their home at all times including evenings and weekends. Committed sales people do not 'clock on' and 'clock off' to regimented working hours. All our Property Consultants freely give out their mobile numbers and direct email addresses because they want to hear from you at a time to suit you not to suit them.

Team spirit

As all of our Property Consultants are self employed and have no basic salary to rely upon they will only earn if the property they are marketing sells. This means that if they haven't got any potential buyers already registered it is in their interest to promote the home and share the commission with their colleagues. This creates a very competitive and proactive environment and gives our vendors nine estate agents for the price of one.

Expert control

Getting an offer on a property is often the easy part of our business. Getting the sale through to exchange can sometimes be a challenge. Dealing with solicitors, mortgage lenders and other estate agents in the chain is a full time job and requires a great deal of knowledge and, of course, a sprinkling of patience. Most sales people are not equipped to do this so we place all of our sales in the hands of our expert Sales Coordinators.

Clever boards

If you have ever called an estate agent from the telephone number on the 'for sale' board you will have often found that the person you speak to rarely knows the property to any depth. This is because the person that placed the property on the market is normally out of the office valuing other homes. Horts 'for sale' boards have distinctive telephone numbers that divert to the Property Consultant dealing with that home so you always speak to the right person.

BE A MULTI-SKILLED ENERGY ASSESSOR

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.1 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. And more 'green environmental' laws are coming!

For example next year nearly every commercial property with air-conditioning must have an Assessment before the January 2011 deadline.

Applicants are therefore required to train now as multi-skilled 'Property Professionals' to carry out commercial and air-conditioning Energy Assessments and many other roles such as Flood and Fire Risk Assessments, Energy Audits, Insulation Surveys, Property Valuations, Home Condition Reports, Public Buildings Assessments etc.

No previous experience is necessary, training to join this new growth industry can usually be taken around current job at our nationwide training centres approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment and is subsidised. On qualifying start your own energy business, work for other Assessment Providers or be available for potential full or part-time work through our Energy Assessor Panel with earnings of up to £1,500 per Assessment.

Nissan to cover rise from new VAT rate

ANY Nissan buyer concerned their new car might not be delivered by the end of 2009 needn't worry – they won't have to pay the Government's higher rate of VAT.

That's the pledge made by Britain's biggest car builder which is promising to cover the price increase of any new Nissan resulting from the Government's planned January 1 VAT increase.

As the temporary VAT rate of 15 per cent comes to an end, Value Added Tax is expected to return to 17.5 per cent.

However, as this is calculated on the manufacturer's recommended retail price at the time of delivery, most car buyers who order this year but don't get the keys until 2010 stand to lose out.

To avoid this, Nissan will pay the extra VAT, up to 17.5 per cent, for any new car customer placing an order before the end of 2009 and taking delivery before March 31, 2010.

All Nissan cars are included in this offer, which allows customers to take advantage of the 15 per cent VAT rate right up until the last minute of 2009.

R range to set Golf and Scirocco apart from other Volkswagens

VOLKSWAGEN has confirmed pricing and specification for the most powerful and fastest accelerating versions of the Scirocco and Golf ever produced.

Developed by Volkswagen's special projects wing, Volkswagen Individual, prices for Scirocco R start at £26,945 and £28,930 for the Golf R.

They are fitted with a 2.0 litre TSI four-cylinder engine and a six speed manual gearbox as standard.

For the first time on an 'R' model, the Scirocco R channels power though the front wheels and is fitted with the XDS electronic cross-axle traction control system to ensure improved grip in all conditions.

The Golf R, available in both three and five-door bodystyles, uses a pre-charged hydraulic version of Volkswagen's 4MOTION four wheel drive system.

It can react quicker than previous 4MOTION systems while maximising traction and minimising wheelspin.

The Scirocco accelerates from a standstill to 62mph in six seconds.

The Golf R is the fastest accelerating Volkswagen ever produced, with a 0 to 62mph sprint taking just 5.7 seconds.

To set the 'R' models apart from a conventional Scirocco or Golf, both feature unique styling features. There are new front bumpers complete with LED running lights and a trio of deep airdams, Xenon lights which frame gloss black grille elements, gloss black wing mirrors, sill extensions and 18-inch five-spoke alloy wheels housing gloss black 'R' callipers. Optional 19-inch alloy wheels in the same design are also available and, on the Golf R, these can be specified with a gloss black finish.

At the back, both models feature roof mounted spoilers and are fitted with twin exit exhausts and Smoked rear light units, which on the Golf house high-intensity LED bulbs, further differentiate the R models.

Styling changes continue inside the cabins with new sports seats complete with 'R' logos, piano black and silver highlights, a new three-spoke black leather sports steering wheel with contrasting stitching and revised white backlit dials with subtle electric blue needles unique to the 'R' range.

Vienna leather sports seats are available on both models and Recaro bucket seats can also be specified as an option on both the three- and five-door Golf R models.

The first examples of Volkswagen's most powerful hatchback and coupe are expected to arrive in showrooms in February 2010. For more information, visit your Volkswagen Retailer or www.volkswagen.co.uk

The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.

Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it'.

No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

The Northampton side took the lead after 13 minutes when centre Sean Durcan crossed for an unconverted try.

The home side responded and took the lead with a converted try after 32 minutes only for the visitors to strike back with an unconverted try with five minutes of the half remaining to give the visitors a three point advantage at the interval.

The second half opened with fullback Damian McColgan dotting down for a try within the first minute that was converted by stand off Andy Jefferson.

It then continued with the Artizan based Heathens employing some innovative line moves and solid scrummaging that allowed inside centre Scott Hughes to mark his man of the match performance with an unconverted try on 60 minutes.

Eight minutes later McColgan crossed for his second unconverted try that was followed on 72 minutes by a Jefferson penalty.

With four minutes remaining Durcan concluded the scoring with his second try of the afternoon that provided the Srtizan based Northampton side with 27 unanswered points in the second half and a well deserved 7-37 victory based on a spirited defensive and team performance with outstanding contributions from youngsters Scott Hughes and Andy Jefferson.

Next week The Heathens remain in merit table action when they entertain Leighton Buzzard 3rd XV at home on The Racecourse.

BUGBROOKE 77 DEEPINGS 5

BUGBROOKE travelled to Market Deepings with a point to prove having suffered their first league defeat last week by one point.

They immediately got the travelling out of their legs and ran the Deepings defence ragged.

Four tries a piece from Adam Pepper and Ollie Whiteside showed the dominance of the Bugbrooke backs. With two tries from Ben Pattle and one a-piece for Zac Miller, James Tilley and Mark Tompkins it brought the try tally up to 13 tries.

Further points from the boots of Zac Miller with two conversions and Kie Fewster with another four gave Bugbrooke an unassailable lead of 77 points.

Next week Bugbrooke entertain Long Buckby at Home kick off 2.15pm.

NORTHAMPTON MENS OWN 13 STOCKWOOD PARK 28

A MARK James penalty was followed by a Lee McDonald try to get Mens Own on their way in their match.

The visitors scored a converted try to take it to 13-7 at the half-time interval.

Another converted try ten minutes after the break gave Stockwood Park a 13-14 lead.

It wasn't until the 65th minute when the visitors added to their advantage after the referee awarded them a penalty try.

They went on to score a late try and took the game 28-13.

DUNSTABLIANS 10 OLD NORTHAMPTONIANS 9

ALEX Rose's three penalties gave the visitors a 9-0 lead at the half-time break.

But Dunstablians fought back in the second half with a converted try not long after the break.

They took the lead 30 minutes later though a penalty.

Difficult conditions prevented Rose from taking his fourth penalty of the match. He prepared his kick from 50 metres but the strong winds played their part in his attempt.

NORTHAMPTON OLD SCOUTS 10 TOWCESTRIANS RFC 7

TOWCESTRIANS were keen to build on their league position at Scouts and although they fielded a side weakened through a growing list of injuries, confidence remained high, only to lose focus through unforced errors, and gift Scouts some much needed league points.

Eventually, after a series of scrums on the Scouts 5 metre line, the referee gave a penalty try to Tows for recurring infringements and after a Matt Yuill conversion, Tows looked set to be on their way. A converted try for Scouts levelled the scores at half-time.

In the second half, the Scouts fly half and full back were content to do what Tows failed to do in the first half, and successfully kicked for position in the corners.

Tows found themselves struggling to secure good ball and get out of defence, and as a result they subsequently 'gifted' a series of penalties to the home side.

This constant pressure took the sting out of Tows and with neither set of backs looking capable of crossing the gain line, the game subsequently slipped into stalemate. With Scouts securing one of their penalty chances, they had gleefully secured only their second league win of the season and collected desperately needed points.

Tows need to muster their available players to get back on track for their next league encounter.

Cobblers brushed off in 20 minutes

JOHNSTONE'S PAINT TROPHY

MK DONS 3
NORTHAMPTON 1

A BRACE from Sam Baldock and Aaron Wilbraham's volley saw Northampton Town dumped out of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy by MK Dons.

The Dons went ahead on the seventh minute and then raced to a three goal lead in a 20 minute spell where they tore their League Two opposition to shreds.

Tuesday night's local derby wasn't one-sided as Northampton saw enough of the ball to trouble the Dons and Steve Guinan's header could have been the catalyst for a come back.

But in truth the Cobblers created very little to trouble Willy Gueret, and allowed the Dons to set a record of six straight victories at stadiummk.

The Dons took the lead when Wilbraham netted a volley that had the entire Cobblers back line in a spin.

The striker controlled Lewis Gobern's cross at the same time as turning Dean Beckwith and volleying past Chris Dunn.

Seconds later Baldock almost made it two only for Patrick Kanyuka to make a late goal line clearance.

Northampton should have levelled in the 15th minute when Gueret was stranded outside his box as the ball fell to Beckwith. But Gueret remained calm and saved the midfielder's weak shot.

And Cobblers paid the price when they were caught on the counterattack, in the blink of an eye Gueret collected a free-kick, Luke Howell threaded through to Baldock who ghosted past the Northampton defence to coax Dunn off his line and he confidently picked out the bottom corner.

Seven minutes later Dunn was fortunate not to be dismissed when he made little attempt to get the ball, instead wiping out Baldock and his own defender Kanyuka.

Referee Kevin Wright had no hesitation in pointing to the spot and despite waiting three minutes for Kanyuka to be stretchered off Baldock dispatched his penalty to make it 3-0 after 26 minutes.

A comfortable lead allowed the Dons to drop the tempo slightly, yet it was still too much for the Cobblers with Chadwick denied taking the score to four moments before the break when Dunn made a late reaction stop to his drilled effort from 18-yards.

Cobblers came out in the second-half fired up and desperate for a route back.

Liam Davis set the tone when he got the better of Sol Davis and powered an effort to Gueret's right which the keeper managed to get a hand to.

Six minutes into the restart Guinan pulled a goal back for the visitors. The striker rose highest at the back post to head home Luke Guttridge's deep free-kick.

The improving Cobblers side added more fire power to their team when they brought on Adebayo Akinfenwa and Michael Jacobs.

But it was Dons sub Jermaine Easter who almost had an immediate impact when he broke down the right flank and crossed in for Baldock.

The England under-20s striker was thwarted by Dunn who made a comfortable collection to deny him his hat-trick.

The second half ultimately proved fruitless for Cobblers who had plenty of the ball but did precious little with it.

Manager Sampson was chiefly concerned with the officials performance however saying: "I rue some of the decisions, the linesman has given them two goals.

"Their second goal was two yards offside, and it's beyond me how he's given a penalty. It was outside the area and he cleared his own player out - not the MK Dons player.

"It spoilt what would've been a good game. I was delighted with the second half but disappointed with the officials."

Sampson insisted the injury to Kanyuka was not serious and the defender, along with striker Akinfenwa will be up for selection against Grimsby at Sixfields on Saturday.

"He (Kanyuka) has got a bad back and a bad chest but he should be okay. Bayo was rested. He'll be in contention for Saturday.

"We need to start progressing in the league and getting up the table. That's our bread and butter."

NORTHAMPTON TOWN: Dunn, Rodgers, Guttridge, Hinton (c), Beckwith (Jacobs 68), Guinan (Akinfenwa 67), Holt, Gillian, Mulligan, Davis, Kanyuka (McCready 25).
Booked: Dunn, Rodgers
Referee: Kevin Wright (Cambridgeshire)

NORTHAMPTON'S Sam Cullinane has teamed up with British javelin coach Mick Hill at Leeds Metropolitan University. The teenager, who celebrates her 19th birthday this week and is Rugby and Northants Senior Javelin Record Holder and English Schools Finalist, is training six days a week with British Under 23 champion James Campbell and heptathlete gold medalist Jessica Enniss.

SILVERSTONE'S Silson Joggers AC travelled to Luton last Saturday to compete in the second round of the Chiltern League cross country series and came away having retained their league position through some gritty individual efforts. The performance at Luton leaves the team in 12th position in the league, the same position they found themselves in at this point last season.

Battle of the 'Amptons' in next round of the Cup

FOOTBALL

IT'S North v South as the Cobblers were pulled out of the hat to play the Saints in the Second Round of the FA Cup.

Ian Sampson's side secured their progress in the competition with a 2-1 win over non-league Fleetwood Town at Sixfields on Saturday, with both home side goals coming from Luke Guttridge.

Sampson told the club's website: "Fleetwood are a decent outfit, they gave us a really tough game and you have to give them a lot of credit.

"I fully expect Fleetwood to be challenging for promotion this season but overall I thought we just about edged the game.

"It was always going to be a difficult tie but the most important thing is that we are in the second round.

"After we went 1-0 up we had three or four good chances but we didn't take any of them and we then let Fleetwood back into the game. Luke Guttridge coming off was a tactical decision, I just felt we needed to make a change and Luke was just tiring a little bit.

"He scored two very good goals, the FA Cup balls are a bit lighter and I think the free-kick moved about and that baffled their keeper. It was a good strike."

The game with Southampton will take place on Saturday, November 28 with kick-off at 3pm.

Normal matchday admission prices will apply with a £1 discount on these prices for season ticket holders. Tickets are free for under 7s.

Southampton supporters have been allocated both the South and Alwyn Hargrave Stands for this game.

Chairman David Cardoza said: "This decision was made after lengthy discussions between both clubs and with a view to increase the attendance and to give the maximum number of people the opportunity to watch the match.

"Southampton have said they expect to bring in the region of 2,500 supporters to the game. They as a club have agreed to guarantee the cost of 2,000 ticket sales and we have a duty to try and maximise the income we make from this game to protect the financial viability of the club.

"We will be writing or e-mailing all season ticket holders affected by this to explain in more detail why this decision was made and to confirm arrangements."

Season ticket holders in the Alwyn Hargrave Stand are asked to call 01604 683777 or email box.office@ntfc.tv to purchase one of the seats reserved for them in the West Stand.

■ NORTHAMPTON Town striker Joe Benjamin has joined Eastbourne Borough on a month's loan.

Benjamin played as a trialist for the Sussex side recently, and will now make the temporary move for a month.

"We feel the move will do Joe good," said boss Ian Sampson.

"He needs some football, and we don't have too many reserve games over the next few weeks. Hopefully he will go out and get some games under his belt and that will benefit him."

■ COBBLERS' FA Youth Cup second round tie against Chesterfield will be played at Sixfields on Tuesday with a 7pm kick-off.

Ticket prices for the fixture will be £4 for adults and £2 concessions. There will be no free admission for season ticket holders as this is a cup fixture.

■ THE Cobblers Ladies started their FA Cup journey with a trip to Tottenham Hotspur.

The first half saw Northampton having most of the possession, but it wasn't until early in the second half that the Cobblers made the breakthrough with a good move on the edge of the box allowing Nikki Robson to strike the ball cleanly into the top corner of the net.

After scoring Northampton had further opportunities to seal the game but with 20 minutes to go Spurs started to press forward.

Both sides hit the crossbar from distance, but Northampton Town recorded a deserved 1-0 victory to go through to the next round.

■ UNDER 16s coach Eddie McGoldrick declared himself pleased as the Cobblers overcame Glinton in the Northamptonshire FA County Youth Cup on Sunday afternoon.

The Cobblers won the away tie 3-0 with goals from Will Green, George Dukes and Yas Hussain.

"These games are always really tricky and they are a real test for us," said McGoldrick.

Saints coach looking for more of the same against Saracens

RUGBY UNION

NORTHAMPTON Saints director of rugby, Jim Mallinder wants to see his team continue its winning ways in the LV=Cup.

On Saturday, the Saints welcome Saracens to Franklin's Gardens in their second match in the Anglo-Welsh Cup.

Mallinder is keen to keep the winning formula going and said: "The Anglo-Welsh Cup is like any other competition – you've got to keep winning and not worry about the permutations of it.

"We've beaten Ospreys and have got Saracens this week which will be tricky.

"We don't know quite how they are taking the competition, but I'll expect they'll take it fairly seriously and we're looking forward to playing them at home.

"The game at Wembley was in the league and we've got to put that to one side."

Last Thursday, Saints opened their account in the cup by scoring a narrow 19-17 away win against The Ospreys at the Liberty Stadium in Swansea.

It was their first game against the Ospreys and it all added up to a victory

Mallinder admitted it was not the best performance the Saints had turned out this season but as far as he was concerned a win was a win.

Mallinder said: "It's always nice to come down to Wales and win.

"It wasn't the best of performances but we drove back up the motorway quite content.

"We had a relatively inexperienced front five, who I thought did well, and we scrummaged well.

"The lineout went well and we took our opportunities.

"We scored a good try.

"The Ospreys defended well, particularly stopping going around the corner at the second phase.

"It was one of those games that was a bit basketballish at times.

"They had some opportunities but we defended well and got quite a number of turnovers."

Saints full back/scrum half Ben Foden could be in action for his club this weekend as he was one of the ten players released from the England training squad on Tuesday.

■ SAINTS captain Dylan Hartley is back in the England team.

The Saints hooker replaces Steve Thompson in the England side which lines up against Argentina on Saturday.

Last week when Hartley spoke to the Herald & Post he vowed to win back his spot in the test side and yesterday was given the vote of confidence by the selectors.

Saints outside half/centre Shane Geraghty keeps his place in the centre while lock Courtney Lawes starts from the bench as he did against Australia.

England will be looking for a reversal of fortunes after being beaten by Australia 18-9 at Twickenham last weekend.
